Curriculum

Reading: We will finish our unit on research by researching a topic of interest independently. We will also begin our poetry unit towards the end of the month.

Writing: We will continue working on the research process: choosing a topic, asking questions, finding resources, recording and organizing facts, and presenting the information.

Math: We will continue working on number sense: place value and comparing/ordering number. We will also begin a new unit on problem solving with a focus on how addition and subtraction are related.

Science: We will be learning about food chains and animal characteristics.

Social Studies: We will be learning about our economy: goods and services, needs and wants, making choices and the value of work.
